Introduction

Is a chronology of the Adirondacks events really possible? Is there any merit in attempting to record the beginning of every town; the opening date for every golf course, airport, factory, road and power line right-of-way; and dam; the passing of every important meteorological event, earthquake, landslide, forest fire and flood; the appearance of every alien species or biological pathogen; the extinction or extirpation of every native species; the promulgation of every law; the making of every work of art, which has occurred in the two great parks of New York or has impact on these great resources? Of course we argue “yes” - because someone will want to know and because the resulting juxtaposition of events will inevitably lead to new ways of thinking about our regional history and the causality of its events.

Besides, the era of the computer is upon us and the interested user can easily find a desired date or dates in seconds. And all are welcome to help us draft this nearly endless list; just contact one of the chronology managers with your suggestions. The task is not impossible.

The Adirondack Chronology deals with all aspects of the Adirondack region to best suggest the various causal processes at work; several examples: forest exploitation leading to forest fire, in turn leading to protective legislation; trails of the Haudenosaunee leading to roads fostering development and then protective legislation, and so on. Crucial events also often occur well outside of the Adirondack region, e.g. invention of the snowmobile, the building of coal burning plants in the Mid-West, the growth of nickel-copper smelting in the Sudbury region of Ontario, the explosion of Mt. Pinatubo in the Philippines, federal and state legislation, the introduction of the European Starling in New York City, the painting of a great picture or the writing of an inspirational poem. Further, one of our greatest challenges has been the point where we break the “causal chain”, but without doing so we are faced with recounting much of the history of civilization! We thus ask for the patience of the user on such decisions.

The user may use the Find mode (case sensitive detail may help) to extract any particular subject such as the natural history of the ‘moose’ or American ‘beaver’, the history of the Association for the Protection of the Adirondacks (AfPA), the dates of establishment of the many ‘Correctional Facilities’ in the region, global climatic change ‘(GCC)’, or many other subjects. In respect to the Haudenosaunee, i. e. the People of the Longhouse, we usually use this name rather than the more pejorative term Iroquois. The works of Stephen T. Jackson (1988, 1990) and Donald Whitehead (1990) have been especially useful in estimating the advent of the sylva. We use their first approximations. The Environment DEC Newsletter with its Issues of Environment is another especially useful resource. Finally, the works of Norman J. Van Valkenburgh, especially his masterful and detailed Land Acquisition for New York State: An Historical Perspective, have been crucial.

Representative works, i.e. not all of the works, of a particular author, poet or artist, are often given to suggest the period of his or her activity. References for many topics are presented, especially those dealing with more esoteric topics. Well-known events are cited-documentated in many available sources – including electronic “search engines” - and these are usually not listed. Precise locations for events dealing with rare and endangered species are not presented as a matter of protection. Acronyms are commonly used toward conciseness and a special section explaining each follows. Details on dam locations are limited in accord with security measures introduced following the events of September 11, 2001, however the serial number for each dam is listed to permit further research with the NYS DEC. A number of authorities have been especially helpful with their guidance and they are listed with our profound thanks. Finally, we offer the inevitable disclaimer: The dates provided are the best that we have discovered. Some may be wrong. Do not place total faith in our offerings. Further, we would appreciate receiving guidance on dates and events which should be included or those which you find to be in error.

PURPA = Public Utilities Regulatory Policies Act
        PWC = personal water craft
PWG = Pharmaceuticals Working Group (NYS DEC)
        Quad = 100 X 10(15th power) British thermal Units
        R. = River
RCC = Roman Catholic Church
RCMP = Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Canada)
RCPA = Resident’s Committee to Protect the Adirondacks
        re. = regarding
        Res. = Reservoir
RFP = Request for Proposal
RGGI = (acronym) Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative
RILWAS = Regionalized Integrated Lake-Watershed Acidification Study
RMP = Recreation Management Plan (NYS DEC)
        ROD = Record of Decision (U.S. EPA)
ROI = Return on Investment (usually simple payback)
        ROIP = Radio Over Internet Protocol
ROOST = Regional Office of Sustainable Tourism (formerly, Lake Placid/Essex County Visitors Bureau)
        ROW = right-of-way
RPI = Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, NY
        RPS = Renewable Portfolio Standard
        RR = railroad
        S.A. = Union of South Africa
SCA = (acronym) Strategic Air Command (US Air Force)
        SAD = Sudden Aspen Decline
SAFEHEA-LU = Safe, Accountable, Flexible, and Efficient Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for users
SABB = Second Atlas of Breeding Birds of New York State
        SCA = Student Conservation Association
SCAR = Scientific Committee on Antarctic Research (Great Britain)
        SCJ = Supreme Court Justice (New York State)
SCN = Sustainable Communities Network (EPA funded)
        SD = sewer district
SED = State Education Department (New York State)
        SEL = State Executive Law
SEQRA = acronym: State Environmental Quality Review Act
        SES = State Engineer and Surveyor
        SFI = Sustainable Forestry Initiative Program
        SH&E = Sackets Harbor & Ellisburgh (railroad)
        SHPC = Scenic Hudson Preservation Conference
SIAC = Statewide Interoperability Advisory Council (formerly Statewide Wireless Network)
        SIB = Seaway International Bridge (Cornwall Island (Kawehnoke), Akwesasne)
        SIO = Scripps Institute of Oceanography
SLAC = Saranac Lake Airport Commission
SLMP = acronym: State Land Master Plan
SLPID = acronym: Saratoga Lake Protection and Improvement District
SLS = State Land Survey
SNCR = Saratoga & North Creek Railway
SOA = Shore Owners’ Association (of Lake Placid)
SOD = sudden oak death (Phytophthora ramorum)
SONYMA = State of New York Mortgage Agency
SPAC = acronym: Saratoga Performing Arts Center
SPDES = acronym: State Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (permit) (NYS)
SRMTC = St. Regis Mohawk Tribal Council (Akwasasne)
SRSD = Salmon River School District
SSCC = Snowmobile Safety and Certification Committee
SSECC = State Senate Environmental Conservation Committee
STB = Surface Transportation Board (successor to Interstate Commerce Commission) (federal)
STCC = Stihl Timbersports Collegiate Challenge
STP = sewage treatment plant
SUNY CESF = State University College of Environmental Science and Forestry, Syracuse, NY
SuperAWOS = a pilot controlled, Automated Unicom (unified communications) and AWOS system
SWN = Statewide Wireless Network
TAP = The Adirondack Project
TAUNY = acronym: Traditional Arts in Upstate New York (Canton, NY)
TCUMP = Travel Corridor Unit Management Plan
TDR = transferrable development rights (re. Commission on Adks in 21st Century)
TFG = The Forestland Group, LLC
TI = Trudeau Institute
TIME = Temporarily Integrated Monitoring of Ecosystems (U.S.) (acid rain)
TIPP = Terrestrial Invasive Plant Program
TIS = Tick Identification Service, NYS Department of Health
TLERP = Tri-Lakes Electric Reliability Project
TMC = Trudeau Mycobacterial Collection, a.k.a. Trudeau Mycobacterial Cultural Collection
TMCC = Trudeau Mycobacterial Culture Collection
TNC = The Nature Conservancy
TMDL = Total Maximum Daily Load
TPL = Trust for Public Land
TR = Theodore Roosevelt (26th President of the U.S.)
TRCP = Theodore Roosevelt Conservation Partnership
Tri-Lakes = Region surrounding Lake Placid, Saranac Lake and Tupper Lake
TSCA = acronym: Toxic Substances Control Act (U.S.)
TSCFA = Temporary Study Commission on the Future of the Adirondacks
TSCTFC = Temporary Study Commission for the Twenty-First Century
TSE = Transmissible Spongiform Encephalopathy
UBI = Upstate Biotechnology, Inc.
UELPCO = Utica Electric Light and Power Company
UHEAC = Upper Hudson Environmental Action Committee
UHPCC = Upper Hudson Primary Care Consortium (of HHHN)
UMP = Unit Management Plan
UNEP = United Nations Environment Program
U.S.A. = United States Army
USAEC = United States Atomic Energy Commission
USBS = United States Bureau of Biological Survey
USBSF = United States Bobsled and Skeleton Federation (Lake Placid, NY)
USCB = United States Census Bureau
USCCSP – United States Climate Change Science Program
USCG = United States Coast Guard
USDI = United States Department of the Interior
USDJ = United States Department of Justice
USFS = United States Forest Service
USGCRP = United States Global Change Research Program
USLA = Upper Saranac Lake Association
USPO = United States Post Office
USPS = United States Postal Service
USSCS = United States Soil Conservation Service
USSC = United States Supreme Court
UTV = utility vehicle, a.k.a. side-by-side ATV
VFD = volunteer fire department
VHS = Viral Hemorrhagic Septicemia
VIC = Visitor Interpretive Center
vpd = vehicles per day
VIS = Village Improvement Society (Saranac Lake)
VT ANR = Vermont Agency of Natural Resources
WA = Wilderness Area
WARDA = West Central Adirondack Recreation Development Association
WCS = Wildlife Conservation Society
WDT = Watertown Daily Times (newspaper)
WFA = Wild Forest Area
WHH = Wiawaka Holiday House (east shore Lake George)
WHO = World Health Organization
WHOI = Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute
WHTI = Western Hemisphere Travel Initiative (U.S)
WMO = World Meteorological Organization
WPBR = White Pine Blister Rust
WRDA = Water Resources Development Act (NYS)
WS = Wilderness Society
WSI = Watershed Stewardship Program (of Adirondack Watershed Inst., PSC)
WSRR = NYS Wild, Scenic and Recreational Rivers Act
WTD = white tailed deer
WWTP = waste-water treatment plant
y. = years
y.o. = age, years old
ZCA = Zinc Corporation of America
ZENN Car = Zero Emissions, No Noise (electric car)
Adirondack Chronology - Event and Year

The Universe begins its expansion as the Big Bang B.P. 15 bill
Quarks and gluons form a low-viscosity liquid (seconds Post Big Bang) $10^{-18}$ sec PBB
Particles form $10^{-1}$ sec PBB
Atomic nuclei form 3 min PBB
Helium is formed (in minutes and seconds Post Big Bang) 3 min 3.5 sec PBB
Era of Atoms 380,000 y. PBB
Era of Galaxies 1 bill y. PBB
The sun forms B.P. 5.0 bill
The earth and moon form B.P. 4.6 bill
An atmosphere of carbon dioxide and nitrogen gases forms on planet Earth B.P. 4.5 bill
A zircon granule is formed at a site now found Jack Hills (Outback), Australia B.P. 4.4 bill
The lithosphere (continental crust) of the earth forms B.P. 4.4 bill
Living organisms appear on earth; date based on altered carbon isotope ratios of organic matter B.P. 3.9 bill
Archaean Era begins B.P. 3.8 bill
Aquatic sedimentation begins B.P. 3.8 bill
Cyanobacteria (single-celled organisms) arise - as shown by fossil remains B.P. 3.5 bill
Zircon is formed in the Superior Province NW of the Grenville Province (Protoadirondacks) B.P. 2.8 bill
Photosynthetic algae in the oceans begin taking in carbon dioxide and releasing oxygen B.P. 2.7 bill
Stromatolites appear on earth suggesting an atmosphere with increasing amounts of oxygen B.P. 2.7 bill
Core of the North American continent forms as Archaean Era ends with stromatolites common B.P. 2.5 bill
North American Craton rifts and Huronian sediments are deposited B.P. 2.4 bill
Atmospheric oxygen increases rapidly – but this event is contested by some B.P. 2.2 bill
Multicellular organisms appear B.P. 2.1 bill
Sexual organisms appear B.P. 2.0 bill
Vredeford Asteroid strikes South Africa forming crater 186 mi. in diameter and 3 mi. deep B.P. 2.0 bill
An object the size of Mt. Everest hits the earth near the current site of Sudbury, Ontario B.P. 1.9 bill
The Hudsonian orogeny of the Canadian shield occurs B.P. 1.7 bill
Anorthosite intrudes from below into most of the shields B.P. 1.7 bill
Mt. Marcy massif of anorthosite forms (based on K/Rb dating by R. C. Reynolds) B.P. 1.47 bill
Widespread formation of Adirondack anorthosite occurs B.P. 1.45 bill
Stromatolites form in the NW Adirondack region B.P. 1.4 bill
Tonalite (a kind of rock) forms in the SE Protoadirondacks B.P. 1.37 bill
Zircon grains etc. begin their deposition in a shallow, warm, inland sea covering the Protoadks B.P. 1.3 bill
Stromatolites colonize the shallow waters of an inland sea covering the Protoadirondacks B.P. 1.3 bill
The Grenville Orogeny of the Canadian Shield begins – the Elzevirian Phase B.P. 1.28 bill
Intrusion of anorthositic and granitic basement rock of the Adirondacks occurs B.P. 1.17 bill
James M. McLelland et al. age based on 13 anorthosite samples for Mt. Marcy massif B.P. 1.15 bill
Massive Grenville orogeny (Ottawan Phase) continues with deformation-metamorphism B.P. 1.08 bill
Erosion for next 0.4 billion yrs. removes 25 kms of rock establishing the Grenville Plain B.P. 1.0 bill
Seventy percent of the dominant Precambrian biota perishes in a great extinction B.P. 0.65 bill
Iapetus opens in Adks with much NNE rifting and jointing and formation of diabase dikes B.P. 0.65 bill
Vendian (Ediacaran) time begins with rapid end of global Marinoan glaciation B.P. 0.62 bill
Multicellular animal fossils form B.P. 0.62 bill
Igneous matter is injected into the faults of the Adirondacks forming diabase dikes B.P. 0.6 bill
Adirondack region is a seafloor upon which thousands of feet of sediment are deposited B.P. 0.56-0.45 bill
The Paleozoic Era opens and modern phyla emerge B.P. 0.544 bill
The first of four mass extinctions occur during the Cambrian Period, the last in B.P. 0.51 bill. y. B.P. 0.54 bill
Trilobites appear in the shallow, sedimentary seas submerging the Adirondack region B.P. 0.52 bill
Adirondack grabens grow in depth forming the basins of future Lake George and Schroon Lake B.P. 0.48 bill
Tectonic activity ceases in a flat Adirondack region providing calm for 450 million years B.P. 0.47 bill
The shallow, tropical Iapetus Ocean covers eastern proto-North America B.P. 0.45 bill
The majority of life is destroyed in a global catastrophe B.P. 0.44 bill
Green Mountains and Catskills form when North America and Europe collide B.P. 0.38 bill
A mass extinction occurs in the Devonian Period to establish the Frasnian-Famennian boundary B.P. 0.36 bill
The Allegheny Mountains form B.P. 0.28 bill
Possible asteroid strikes NW Australian coast to destroy majority of species to end Permian Era B.P. 0.253 bill
Possible asteroid strikes Wilkes Land, Antarctica ending the Permian Era (see NASA data) B.P. 0.250 bill
The Mesozoic era opens B.P. 0.25 bill
The Triassic basins form and rifting gives rise to the Atlantic Ocean B.P. 0.23 bill
The Adirondacks rise and their sedimentary veil is lost through various forms of erosion B.P. 0.18 bill
Vulcanism with massive lava flows causes global T rise and widespread marine anoxia B.P. 0.18 bill
Adk Mountains continue to rise, possibly due to a deep “hot spot” causing the expansion B.P. 0.70 mill
Major asteroid strikes Yucatan area of Central America ending Cretaceous era, age of dinosaurs B.P. 0.66 mill
The Cenozoic era opens B.P. 0.66 mill
Vulcanism induces Paleocene-Eocene thermal maximum with global T 5-10 C above present B.P. 0.55 mill
Songbirds, Passerida (3,500 species), native to Australasia, begin worldwide spread B.P. 0.45 mill
The Mammalidae (Mastodons) emerge in North Africa B.P. 0.35 mill
Mammalidae (Mastodons) spread from Africa into Eurasia B.P. 0.20 mill
Mammalidae (Mastodons) cross the Bering Isthmus from Eurasia to North America B.P. 0.15 mill
Laurentide glaciation begins shaping mountains and valleys of Adirondack region B.P. 0.5 mill
The American Mastodon (Mammut americanum) ranges from coast to coast in North America B.P. 0.5 mill
Stone tools are made in Africa and hominid deforestation begins B.P. 0.24 mill
The Quaternary Period, the modern cycle of glaciation begins B.P. 0.16 mill
Home erectus use hearths at Escale, near Marseilles, France, and use of wood fuel increases B.P. 0.450,000
Neanderthals (Homo neanderthalensis) are extant in Europe, western and central Asia B.P. 200,000
Glacial maximum “predicted” (1941) by Milutin Milankovitch on an astronomical basis B.P. 185,000
Riss Glaciation closes – with average temperatures 10 degrees F. colder than today B.P. 150,000
Glacial maximum “predicted” (1941) by Milutin Milankovitch on an astronomical basis B.P. 115,000
Glacial maximum “predicted” (1941) by Milutin Milankovitch on an astronomical basis B.P. 70,000
Deep-sea sediment analysis indicates atmospheric temperatures fall 15 °F in Europe B.P. 40,000—35,000
Neanderthals (Homo neanderthalensis) disappear from Europe B.P. 32,000—24,000
Homo sapiens gathers and processes wild grains along the Sea of Galilee, eastern Mediterranean B.P. 23,000
Laurentide ice sheet is at maximum extent eradicating all flora and fauna in this region B.P. 21,700—18,000
Rapid retreat and melting of Laurentide ice sheet creates glacial Lake Vermont B.P. 14,500
Glacial ice sheet is in active recession from southern NY B.P. 14,000
Oceanic salt water enters Lake Vermont changing it into the Champlain Sea B.P. 13,000
Fish re-enter L. George/L. Champlain region of Adirondacks as Laurentide ice sheet recedes B.P. 13,000
Aboriginal man (Clovis) of North America extinguishes (hypothetical) 35 species of megafauna B.P. 13,000
Rate of Laurentide ice sheet melting slows B.P. 13,000—10,000
Freshwater layer spreads over North Atlantic disrupting thermohaline-based circulation
B.P. 12,900
Younger Dryas (after Dryas octopetala) stadial begins within a decade; aka “the Big Freeze”
B.P. 12,900
Meteorite strikes Canada (still hypothetical) initiating megafauna extinction
B.P. 12,900
Glacial ice sheet is in active recession from Adirondacks and Catskills
B.P. 12,700
Glacial Lake Iroquois begins drainage of melt waters through the Mohawk Valley
B.P. 12,600
Organic matter begins deposition in the Luzerne bogs, Saratoga Co. (14C)
B.P. 12,600
Organic matter begins deposition in the Upper Wallface bogs, Essex Co. (14C)
B.P. 12,390
Ontario lobe of Wisconsinan ice sheet retreats sufficiently for fish to access Adk waters
B.P. 12,300
Lake Frontenac succeeds Lake Iroquois draining through the St. Lawrence Valley
B.P. 12,200
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of Dwarf Birch, Betula glandulosa, in AHP
B.P. 12,000
Trees return to NY providing a firm basis for radiocarbon dating
B.P. 11,600
Younger Dryas, aka “Big Freeze,” ends, the transition taking place within a decade
B.P. 11,555
Homo sapiens is well-established in temperate North America
B.P. 11,500
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of the White Spruce, Picea glauca, in AHP
B.P. 11,400
Paleoindian hunter-gather groups move to L. Champlain region as the ice sheet retreats north
B.P. 11,300
Paleoindians begin using small skin watercraft on Lake Champlain
B.P. 11,300
Paleoindians adapt to loss of mammoth, mastodon, moose-elk, caribou and musk-ox
B.P. 11,300—9,000
Crustal changes isolate Lake Champlain from the sea
B.P. 11,000
Glacial melting exposes the Lake George graben and Lake George fills
B.P. 11,000
Foraminifera suddenly change shell coil-direction indicating abrupt rise in sea water temperature
B.P. 11,000
Organic matter is deposited on the floor of Ballston Lake, Saratoga Co.
B.P. 11,000
Goats and sheep are domesticated in Iran and Afghanistan
B.P. 11,000
Clovis-type spear points are used and deposited in northeastern NY
B.P. 11,000
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of the Tamarack, Larix laricina, in AHP
B.P. 11,000
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of the Balsam Fir, Abies balsamea, in AHP
B.P. 10,500
Pollen/macrofossils indicate start of decline of spruce (Picea sp.) in AHP
B.P. 10,500
Champlain Sea floor begins isostatic rebound following glacial offloading
B.P. 10,300
Tundra declines and a spruce-rich boreal forest emerge in northern NY
B.P. 10,200
Rapid retreat and melting of glaciers occurs
B.P. 10,000
Champlain Sea recedes from its bay and present fluvial system begins development
B.P. 10,000
The mammoth, caribou and bison of NY become extinct
B.P. 10,000
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of Green Alder, Alnus crispa, in AHP
B.P. 10,000
Green Alder, Alnus crispa, hosting nitrogen fixing symbionts, raises soil nitrogen
B.P. 10,000
Pollen/macrofossils indicate Quaking Aspen, Populus tremuloides, arrival in AHP
B.P. 10,000
Pollen/macrofossils indicate Bigtooth Aspen, Populus grandidentata, arrival AHP
B.P. 10,000
California condor is extirpated from NY; bones found at Hiscock Site, Genesee Co.
B.P. 10,000
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of Paper Birch, Betula papyrifera, in AHP
B.P. 10,000
Rapid retreat and melting of glaciers occurs
B.P. 10,000
Atmospheric CO₂ is 280 ppm having risen from 210 ppm during previous 7000 years
B.P. 10,000
Period of extinction of North American megafauna ends
B.P. 10,000
American Mastodon (Mammut americanum) range from Alaska to Yucatan and coast to coast
B.P. 10,000
Pleistocene epoch ends
B.P. 10,000
Boreal forest declines and pine-rich forest emerges in Hamilton Co.
B.P. 9,600
Paleo-Indian hunters with dogs prevail in NE North America
B.P. 9,000
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of White Pine, Pinus strobus, in AHP
B.P. 9,000
Goats and sheep are domesticated in Iran and Afghanistan
B.P. 9,000
Paleoindians evolve into Archaic culture as forest reclaims the L. Champlain valley B.P. 9,000
Archaic people live in specific watersheds but use watercourses for trade and transportation B.P. 9,000–2,900
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of Ground Hemlock, Taxus canadensis, in AHP B.P. 8,800
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of Jack Pine, Pinus banksiana, in AHP B.P. 8,800
Melting of the Laurentide ice sheet pauses in a so-called ‘stand-still’ for several centuries B.P. 8,500–5,000
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of Red Pine, Pinus resinosa, in AHP B.P. 8,000
Spores of Sphagnum spp. appear in lake sediment profile and increase thereafter B.P. 8,000
Human global population is estimated to be 5 million (PRB) B.P. 8,000
‘Supernatural’ natural gas seeps, ignited by natural causes, are noted in Iran B.P. 8000–4000
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of Eastern Hemlock, Tsuga canadensis, in AHP B.P. 7,400
Pine-rich forest declines/hemlock-rich mixed forest emerges B.P. 7,000
Cattle are being herded in Turkey and parts of Africa B.P. 7,000
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of the Yellow Birch, Betula lutea, in AHP B.P. 6,000
Early bronze age commences B.P. 5,500
Archaic Phase of aboriginal peoples prevails with further demise of big game B.P. 5,500
Humans are afflicted with TB, osteomyelitis, osteoporosis and congenital anomalies B.P. 5,500
Cattle are domesticated B.P. 5,000
Aboriginal man develops smelting of iron and applies the product to various uses B.P. 5,000
Eastern Hemlock, Tsuga canadensis, experiences a massive-extensive dieback B.P. 4,800
Start of Julian Day Count used in current astronomy (set by J.J. Scaliger in 1583) B.C. 4,713
Hemlock is replaced by birch, maple, beech and pine B.P. 4,700
Dog bones are found at a NY Archaic Lamoka culture and are 14C dated B.P. 4,500
Rock carving at Rodoy, southern Norway, depicts skiing B.P. 4,500
Birch, beech, maple, pine are replaced by spruce and fir in NE America B.P. 4,000
Middle bronze age commences B.P. 4,000
Bathrooms with running water are installed in the palace at Minos B.P. 3,700
Late bronze age commences B.P. 3,600
Volcanic island of Santorini, Mediterranean, erupts spreading dust worldwide B.P. 3,500
Egyptians make glass bottles by forming molten glass around core of sand and clay B.P. 1,500
Pollen/macrofossils indicate the recovery of Eastern Hemlock, Tsuga canadensis B.P. 3,400
Egyptians are afflicted with spinal deformities indicative of tuberculosis B.P. 3,400
Charcoal use for smelting of copper in Cyprus consumes 4 to 5 square miles of forest per year B.P. 3,300
Fuel use for bronze, pottery, etc., reduce Mycenaean forests to Peloponnesian upland B.P. 3,300
Peloponnesian peninsula and islands suffer severe flooding, soil erosion and population change B.P. 3,200
Salt and ash, as an agricultural herbicide, is used by Biblical armies B.P. 3,200
Mycenaean cities fail and civilization collapses due to consequences of deforestation B.P. 3,100
Floods, mudslides and harbor silting resulting from deforestation suppress economy of Cyprus B.P. 3,100
Cypriot civilization collapses with 90% of settlements abandoned B.P. 3,050
Homer reports on the use of sulfur in fumigation and other means of pest control B.P. 3,000
Cows are domesticated in the Middle East B.P. 3,000
Early Woodland Period of human culture prevails in northeastern North America B.P. 2,900–2100
Establishment of large settlements and horticulture signal Woodland Period in Champlain valley B.P. 2,900
Haudenosaunee establish dominance over Brewerton people west of Champlain valley B.P. 2,900
King Solomon (Hebrew Shlomo) of Israel, son-successor of David, builds temple in Jerusalem B.C. 950
Productive use of natural gas is noted in China, discovered when boring for salt B.C. 900
The Romans use hellebore for control of rats, mice and insects B.C. 900
Sandstone stele at the place of Nimrud lists native and introduced plants and animals B.C. 813
Agriculture begins in the New York region B.C. 800
King Sennacherib establishes a garden at Nineveh with plants and animals B.C. 700
King Assurbanipal establishes a library at Nineveh – eventually to hold 22,000 clay tablets B.C. 700
King Sennacherib engages in the sport of mountain climbing B.C. 700
Pollen/macrofossils indicate arrival of the White Cedar, Thuja occidentalis, in AHP B.C. 700
Ephesus is a harbor on the Aegean Sea at the mouth of the Cayster River of western Asia Minor B.C. 700
Procession Street in Babylon is paved with brick, reign of King Naboppolassar B.C. 625
Countryside of Athens is well forested B.C. 600
Papyrus is introduced to Greece B.C. 600
Myus, at mouth of Meander River, is a seaside harbor of western Asia Minor B.C. 500
Dams are built on the rivers of India B.C. 500
Athenian law requires trash disposal at least a modern mile beyond city limits B.C. 500
Greeks use asphalt as sealant for baths, reservoirs and aqueducts calling it “asphaltos” (secure) B.C. 500
Athenian statesman Themistocles begins regional deforestation to build two-hundred ships B.C. 486
Athenians send 10,000 to settle the forested region of Amphicolicis and most are killed B.C. 465
Hippocrates identifies phthisis (TB) as most widespread disease of the time noting its morbidity B.C. 460
Hippocrates describes metal diggers by their “wan complexion and the difficulty of breathing” B.C. 460
The Peloponnesian wars devastate the forests of Greece B.C. 431-04
Leaders of the Greek island of Kos forbid the cutting of cypress in the sacred groves B.C. 430
Plato and Aristotle accent the importance of forests in attainment of the ideal state B.C. 400
Deforestation of Greece accelerates and many laws are enacted to protect forests B.C. 400
Gauls burn Rome placing massive demands on regional forests for reconstruction B.C. 390
Philip of Macedonia, father of Alexander, takes northern Greek coast city of Amphicolicis B.C. 356
Macedonian control of Greek forests leads to continued decline of Athens B.C. 350
Chinese introduce colonies of ants into citrus groves to control damage from caterpillars B.C. 324
One-time Aegean harbor of Myus is landlocked due to sedimentation following loss of forests B.C. 300
Athenian forests are exhausted and Macedonia becomes a prime source for wood B.C. 300
Plato and Aristotle write about spiritus (gas) B.C. 300
Glass bottles are made by blowing glass into molds in Egypt, Persia and China B.C. 200
Some of the streets of Rome are paved B.C. 170
Rome conquers Macedonia taking full control of forest resources of the northern Greek coast B.C. 167
A Roman consul proclaims that the year will begin January 1st B.C. 156
Chinese make paper using mulberry bark and henp fiber B.C. 150
The Greek Asclepius (Asclepiades) accents importance of nature healing in Rome B.C. 090
Lake Champlain is the boundary between Haudenosaunee (west) and Western Abenaki (east) B.P. 2100-950
The Gauls introduce soap to Rome B.C. 050
Virgil reports on the treatment of seeds with nitre and amurca B.C. 025
Pollen and macrofossils indicate the recovery of Spruce (Picea sp.) in the Adirondacks. 4 A.D.
Pollen and macrofossils indicate existence of current Adirondack flora and plant zonation 4 A.D.
Roman public hot-water baths proliferate and consume massive amounts of wood fuel 50 A.D.
Roman architecture, metallurgy, ceramics, heating and agriculture deplete Italian forest resources 50 A.D.
Pliny the Elder notes ‘sickness of the lungs’ in slaves wearing asbestos cloth 60 A.D.
Rome burns again and is rebuilt in brick one cord of wood used to fire one cubic foot of brick 64 A.D.
Mt Vesuvius, Bay of Naples, Italy, explodes destroying Pompeii and Herculaneum 79 A.D.
Hopewell Mound Building culture of the Ohio Valley disappears c.100 A.D.
The Chinese use dried chrysanthemum flowers to kill insects 100 A.D.
Streets of Fontaine Ardent, near Grenoble, France, are lit with natural gas lamps 100 A.D.
The Chinese court official Ts’ai Lun uses textile waste to make paper 105 A.D.
Human global population is estimated at c. 400 million (PRB) 200 A.D.
Middle Woodland Period of human culture prevails in northeastern North America 200 A.D.
Rome develops ‘Law of Nations’ to deal with crimes and civil complaints of non-Romans early 400s A.D.

The word foresta appears in the lexicon being applied to royal game preserves 700s A.D.

The word foresta appears for the first time in the laws of the Longobards and the capitularies of Charlemagne. Referring not to woodlands in general but only to the royal game preserves. The word has an uncertain provenance. The most likely origin is the Latin foris, meaning “outside”. The obscure Latin word forestare meant “to keep out, to place off limits, to exclude.” In effect, during the Merovingian period in which the word foresta entered the lexicon, kings had taken it upon themselves to place public bans on vast tracts of woodland in order to insure the survival of their wildlife, which in turn would insure the survival of a fundamental royal ritual – the hunt.

The winter of 1783-84 earned the reputation of being the longest such season in our period of study, and in addition ranked close to the top for extremes of deep snow cover and low temperatures. Here were some of its achievements: produced the greatest seasonal snowfall ever known in northern New Jersey, the longest spell of below-zero readings on record in southern New England, shut up the harbors and channels of Chesapeake Bay longer than any other interruption, and received recognition by the dean of early historians of Maine as the longest and coldest winter since the area had been settled by white-men.

A blizzard strikes Schenectady dropping 12 to 18 inches of snow (17 Jul) 1816

All summer long the wind blew steady from the north in blasts of snow and ice. Mothers knitted wooly warm mittens and socks of double thickness for their children. Farmers who worked out their taxes on the county roads wore greatcoats, and hearth fires were indispensable. July came in with winter ferocity. On Independence Day, ice as thick as window glass formed throughout New England, New York, and parts of Pennsylvania. Crops which in some areas had struggled through May and June gave up the ghost. And to the surprise of all, August proved the cruelest month: icy fingers of blight and bane spread as far as England. Newspapers from overseas reported a snowfall at Barnet, 30 miles from London on August 30th.

The Saranac river had, in the term of a few years before 1830, been the scene of several destructive freshets, but in that year it was visited by a flood unparalleled before or since in its force and wide devastation. An uninterrupted downfall of rain, in immense volumes, prevailed several days. The rise of the river was gradual but steady. The freshet soon was swollen beyond the banks of the river and it was apparent that a terrific inundation was impending. No power in nature is so terrific and irresistible as a bad flood.

Winslow C. Watson
In the summer of 1830 Elizabethtown received a temporary setback. Reference is here made to the great freshet, than which no more disastrous flood ever visited this section. Saw logs, trees, fences, houses and everything imaginable, except the "everlasting hills," came down Water Street. The Little Boquet, swelled to overflowing banks, swept along with the besom of destruction, striking the old Ross whiskey distillery, (then being superintended by the late David Benson, Sr., a veteran of the War of 1812) and the old grist-mill by the bridge. The distillery was ruined and the grist-mill was so badly worsted that it never ground any grain after that fatal summer day. It was afterwards made over into a store and is to-day the front part of the store of Harry H. Nichols. The red store of Ira Marks which stood just below the bridge by the grist-mill was carried downstream, goods, Masonic records and all. Mr. Marks went down to the city and told the people from whom he bought goods just what had happened, stating that he wanted some credit, for which he could give good security. When asked what security he could give, he replied: "My note, it's good." Credit was given him and he returned to Elizabethtown and arranged a new place in which to conduct mercantile business and went ahead as though nothing had happened.

No climate is more salubrious, or better calculated to secure enjoyment and comfort to man, the atmosphere clear, elastic and invigorating, bears no miasmatic exhalations. The winters of this climate are often severe but equable. The summers are warm, and yield a rapid impulse to vegetation, that promotes an early maturity. The heat of summer is modified by the cool and exhilarating breezes of the lakes and mountains . . . .

Canal Appraisers deny all claims against NYS for damages from Wells dam failure (16 Feb) 1859

"The principal cause of the great destruction of life and property during the freshet of 1856 was the giving way of the state dam at the head of the AuSable River during a heavy rain storm, which washed out all the dams below, completely destroying the flourishing business of the firm of J. H. Purmort & Co., consisting of clothing and carding works, saw mill, wheelwright and blacksmith shop, four fire forges, 300 tons of separated ore, coal house filled with coal, tannery, store with about $10,000 worth of goods, grist mill (opposite side of the river) damaged to the extent of $100,000. Nine (9) lives lost between Keene and AuSable Forks." (Editors’ note: Except that the cause of the destruction was not true: the dam did not burst sending a surge down river. While it is true that the dam was breached, the flow released was not consequential to the damage caused downstream. The investigation determined that it had been a rain storm of immense proportions, perhaps the storm of the century. The resulting damage was an act of God. Remuneration was not granted.)

The fact that this work is prosecuted under the direct supervision of Thomas C. Durant, Esq., one of the principal stockholders of the Company, and one of the ablest railway men of the country, is a sufficient guarantee for its rapid progress; and with its completion, the Adirondack region will become a suburb of New York. The furnaces of our capitalists will line its valleys and create new fortunes to swell the aggregate of our wealth, while the hunting lodges of our citizens will adorn its more remote mountain sides and the wooded islands of its delightful lakes. It will become, to our whole community, on an ample scale, what Central Park is on a limited one...

New York court case Morgan v. King establishes navigability of a river 1866

[A] river is, in fact, navigable, on which boats, lighters or rafts may be floated to market... . . [.Additionally,] the public have a right of way in every stream which is capable, in its natural state and its ordinary volume of water, of transporting, in a condition fit for market, the products of the forests or mines, or of the tillage of the soil upon its banks. It is not essential to the right that the property to be transported should be carried in vessels, or in some other mode, whereby it can be guided by the agency of man, provided it can ordinarily be carried safely without such guidance. . . .If it is so far navigable or floatable in its natural state and its ordinary capacity, as to be of public use in the transportation of property, the public claim to such use ought to be liberally supported.

[It is not essential for a river to] be capable of being ... navigated against its current. ... Nor is it essential to the easement that the capacity of the stream ... should be continuous ... at all seasons of the year. ... If it is ordinarily subject to periodical fluctuations in the volume and height of its water, attributable to natural causes, and recurring as regularly as the seasons, and if its periods of high water or navigable capacity ordinarily continue a sufficient length of time to make it useful as a highway, it is subject to the public easement.

I place no value upon literal transcripts of Nature. My general scope is not realistic; all my tendencies are toward idealization. While I desire to tell truly of Nature, I did not wish to realize the scene literally, but to preserve and to convey its true impression. My aim was to bring before the public the character of the region.

Blue Jeans, standard Adirondack attire of today, take shape in California 1860s

A denim-like cotton cloth was milled long ago in Genoa, an Italian town the French called Genes, and thus the origin of our word “jeans”. The word denim comes from the French town Nimes. Levi Strauss, a young tailor newly arrived to San Francisco – in the midst of the Gold Rush - in the 1850s saw the need for sturdy work clothes and very successfully contrived clothing of canvas but this was a stiff and heavy fabric that he replaced in the 1860s with the softer but still durable denim. Further, he dyed it blue to conceal stains, and blue jeans became a staple worn nearly all the time by rich and poor, worker and vacationer, young and old.

Here we were startled by the sight of the fresh tracks of a mt. lion or mt. lion, which evidently made his home in this abode of plenty (a deer yard); and shortly thereafter we found the body of a deer freshly killed, and shockingly torn and mutilated. The guides were now all excitement, and followed the mt. lion’s trail eagerly. In less than thirty minutes a shout announced that he had been encountered and rushing forward to the southern front of the plateau I came upon the monstrous creature, coolly defiant, standing at the brow of a precipice on some dead timber, little more than twenty feet from where I stood. Quickly loading the rifle, I sent a bullet through his brain, and as the smoke lifted, saw him struggling in the fearful convulsions of death, till finally precipitated over the cliffs he disappeared from sight in the depths below. . . . The descent from this gorge, which we named the mt. lion pass - having drawn the dead mt. lion through it with us, led down an easy incline covered with hard wood timber, . . . .

Last Thursday evening Mr. R.J. Morn, who has been spending the winter at A. Smith’s, gave a grand party, dance and supper. A general invitation was extended to all, rich and poor, high and low, miles around, which was accepted by 850 persons. Everybody and everybody’s wife and daughters were present, likewise their sons, who brought the other girls. No house in northern New York is better adapted to such an entertainment than that of A.A. Smith’s, of Regis Lake, and it is needless to say that everything pertaining to the party within the province of Paul and his wife was in keeping with their established reputation as host and hostess. Of Mr. Chas. E. Martin, as legal manager and master of ceremonies, one can only say that he was the right man in the right place. The large dining-room made a splendid dancing hall, and as such was tastefully and appropriately decorated. The music, which was composed entirely of local talent and comprised a variety of instruments, was very good and the supper was superb. The dancing was continued until day-light the next morning, when all turned their faces homeward with the universal feeling that it had been one of the best times they had ever had.

You may say to the people that the “awful, horrid” piece of road from the north line of the town of Brighton to Meacham Lake has been put in such good repair that a Brighton man said to me yesterday, that it is now as good as any road in Brighton, which one may consider a very great compliment to our (highway) commissioner, Elias Perkins. This piece of road has been designated by the people south of us (Town of Duane) as the worst piece of road in Franklin County, but is now one of the best, which makes a continuous line of first-class road from Malone to Saranac Lake by the way of Meacham Lake and Paul Smith’s.

Tornado rips through Norwood, St. Law. Co., with much destruction and loss of life (12 Aug) 1885

The storm came from the south-west, and was preceded by an oppressive calm. Its path was about three-quarters of a mile wide and a dozen to fifteen miles long, though the center of its fury was at Norwood. Its duration was barely five minutes. The great railway bridge at that place, 278 feet long, and an exact counterpart of the one at Malone, was wrenched bodily from its piers and carried forty feet down the stream. Many buildings were unroofed and some entirely demolished. Medore Cardinel had just completed a dwelling house. The wind lifted it from its foundation, carried it over the fence to the premises adjoining, and deposited it roof down, badly warped and sprung. The fence remained upright! Four teams were crossing the highway bridge. One of them was lifted, buggy and all, over a railing four feet high and dropped on the sidewalk adjoining the driveway. One of the drivers was blown from his wagon to the very edge of the bridge, but succeeded in seizing the railing, thus preventing his precipitation into the river. . . . .

A Saranac boat is one of the finest things that the skill of man has ever produced under the inspiration of the wilderness. It is a frail shell, so light that a guide can carry it on his shoulders with ease, but so dexterously fashioned that it rides the heaviest waves like a duck, and slips through the water as if by magic. You can travel in it along the shallowest rivers and across the broadest lakes, and make forty or fifty miles a day, if you have a good guide.

Saranac L. businessmen hire Olmsted Brothers (of NYC fame) to prepare plan to improve village 1907

Coming to Saranac Lake last summer, I was struck almost immediately with the potential value of Lake Flower and its immediate surroundings as public property. There is no one step that will be of greater permanent benefit to the village as a whole than the acquisition of complete control over this lake and its shores and all the undesirable buildings will be removed and the lakeshore treated as a park.

I realize fully the great cost of taking these lakeshores and that many will be opposed to spending public funds in that way. But I know of no case where parks or parkways have been built that abutting property has not increased in values.

President Theodore Roosevelt hosts a “Conference of Governors” (13-15 May) 1908

The results of this conference were immediate and far reaching. The state governors drew up a unanimous declaration in support of conservation. Thirty-six state conservation commissions at once sprang into being, scientific bodies appointed numerous conservation committees, and a National Conservation Commission was organized. In short, the sum of these several events gave the conservation movement a prestige and momentum previously unknown and raised it to a plane that enabled it to survive the various reversals it later suffered as a consequence of periodic shifts in political climate.

The function of our government is to insure to all of its citizens, now and hereafter, the rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. If we of this generation destroy the resources from which our children would otherwise derive their livelihood, we reduce the capacity of our land to support a population, and so either degrade the standard of living or deprive the coming generations of their right to life in this continent.

Conservation means the greatest good to the greatest number for the longest time . . . It demands the complete and orderly development of all our resources for the benefit of all the people, instead of the partial exploitation of them for the benefit of a few. It recognizes fully the right of the present generation to use what it needs and all it needs of the natural resources now available, but it recognizes equally our obligation so to use what we need that our descendants shall not be deprived of what they need.

Kimberly-Clark Co. develops Cellucotton as a surgical bandage replacement for cotton 1914

One might ask, What is the most useful article one might take on a trip to the Adirondacks? A box of Kleenex is the only proper answer and we need not explain why. Cotton became scarce with the beginning of WW I and Kimberly-Clark developed Cellucotton for surgical purposes and vast amounts were in warehouses by the end of the war but how could this stock be used? Removal of cosmetics, feminine sanitary napkins, and then as a through-away handkerchief, the latter role greatly enhanced by Andrew Olsen in 1921 when he developed the pop-up tissue box. No cabin, tent, camp, boat, vehicle (including ATVs and snowmobiles) or other human situation of the Adirondacks is now complete without its box of tissues.

Heavy winds, rain, blizzard conditions in 22 states: 353 dead, $66.7M damage (25-27 Nov) 1950

Although this is not a traditional “Northeast snowstorm,” since the heaviest snows fell far to the west of the Northeast coastline, it is included here (Northeast Snowstorms) because it represents perhaps the greatest combination of extreme atmospheric elements ever seen in the eastern United States. We feel that this storm is the benchmark against which all other major storms of the 20th century could be compared. . . .

The great topographical map of the Adirondacks, exhibited at the Center for the Forest Preserve at 897 St. David’s Lane in Niskayuna, NY, is twelve feet high by ten feet wide and based on 62 USGS sheets of the Adirondack region. Some fifty individuals labored 13,000 hours in its production. Colonel William Hannah provided guidance on the techniques of production. Elliot Howe provided the overall coloring; David Utterback delineated the rivers, water bodies and developed areas. Alverra Johnson coordinated the project. This fabulous undertaking was stimulated in a conversation between Paul Schaefer and George Marshall. Harold Hochschild, founder of the Adirondack Museum, contracted a Philadelphia firm to make a fiberglass replica for display at The Adirondack Museum in Blue Mountain Lake. The original mold was later lost in a fire at Paul’s home.

The emergence in widespread practice of the Baconian creed that scientific knowledge means technological power over nature can scarcely be dated before about 1850, save in the chemical industries where it is anticipated in the 18th century. Its acceptance as a normal pattern of action may mark the greatest event in human history since the invention of agriculture, and perhaps in nonhuman terrestrial history as well.

Gov. Rockefeller signs bill (see Art. 27, SEL) creating Adirondack Park Agency (7 Jun)

The agency prepares long-range land use plans for both public and private lands in the park. The eleven-member body is an independent, non-partisan agency within the state’s executive department. Membership consists of eight private citizens appointed by the Governor for limited terms. Five of the citizens must be residents of the park. Three citizens must reside in parts of the state outside of the park. Members continue serving beyond expiration of their terms until a successor is named. Three state officials complete the agency structure: the Commissioner of Environmental Conservation, the Commissioner of Commerce and the Secretary of State.

Gov. Rockefeller signs APA-DEC Adirondack Park State Land Master Plan (SLMP) 1972

The Adirondack State Land Master Plan defines “wilderness” 1972

A wilderness area, in contrast with those areas where man and his own works dominate the landscape, is an area where the earth and its community of life are untrammeled by man – where man himself is a visitor who does not remain. A wilderness area is further defined to mean an area of state land or water having a primeval character, without significant improvement to or permanent human habitation, which is protected and managed so as to preserve, enhance and restore, where necessary, its natural conditions, and which (1) generally appears to have been affected primarily by the forces of nature, with the imprint of man’s work substantially unnoticeable: (2) has outstanding opportunities for solitude or a primitive and unconfined type of recreation; (3) has at least ten-thousand acres of contiguous land and water or is of sufficient size and character as to make practicable its preservation and use in an unimpaired condition; and (4) may also contain ecological, geological or other features of scientific, educational, scenic or historical value.

A Definition of the Wilderness Class
Adirondack Park State Land Master Plan, 1972, page 15

Adirondack State Land Master Plan presents a number of “controversial elements” 1972

The most controversial aspects of the Plan was a directive that certain nonconforming uses in wilderness and primitive areas “be phased out as rapidly as possible and in all cases by December 31, 1975, on a scheduled basis”. In the wilderness areas, the nonconforming uses included jeep tails; snowmobile trails; manned and unmanned fire towers; observer cabins, telephone lines and state truck rails; horse barns; tent platforms; lean-tos above 3,500 feet, and lean-to clusters; helicopter platforms; and ranger cabins.

It’s important because there is so precious little of this wilderness in the world. I believe we need a place to get a sense of balance. There’s no better place to get that sense than where man has not ripped everything up. We have all these big problems, and you can go into the woods, and see how the natural order of things has handled them for thousands of years. I’m working for the protection of what little of that we have left.

Mussel, later defined as quagga mussel, D. bugensis, is found at Port Colborne, Lake Erie (Sep) 1989

The quagga mussel, native to the Dnieper River drainage of the Caspian and Ponto-Caspian Sea, differs from the zebra mussel by being rounder and having asymmetrical valves. The ventral surface of the zebra mussel is flat allowing it to stand erect when placed on this surface by the observer. In contrast, the quagga cannot be stood on its side. The quagga mussel is a vigorous filter feeder clarifying the water and concentrating pollutants prompting dramatic changes in the aquatic ecosystem. It is more tolerant of cold than the zebra mussel and thus it now outcompetes this species at greater depths where it may block intake pipes for cooling and drinking water systems. Expect its arrival in the larger and deeper lakes of the Adirondacks.

Terry Tempest Williams pub An Unspoken Hunger 1994

When I arrived at Lake George I painted a horse's skull -- then another horse's skull and then another horse's skull. After that came a cow's skull on blue. In my Amarillo days cows had been so much a part of the country I couldn't think without them. As I was working I thought of the city men I had been seeing in the East. They talked so often of writing the Great American Novel -- the Great American Play -- the Great American Poetry. I am not sure that they aspired to the Great American Painting. Cézanne was so much in the air that I think the Great American Painting didn't even seem a possible dream.

I hope that people concerned with the future of the Adirondack Park can accept it as a cultural landscape: a place of people, their artifacts, and nature. The Adirondack Park has both a natural and a human history. If we can look for new strategies for telling the region's stories, moving from narratives that polarize and exclude to one of harmonious relations between people and nature, then the Adirondacks can indeed provide the first chapter in a new story for the whole world.

The study on the introduction of wolves into the Adirondacks by Paul Paquet and associates is recommended. It has an extensive bibliography and many detailed maps dealing with the issue. The study, including the detailed genetic analyses of P. J. Wilson and others, concludes that the red wolf was the primeval endemic form, that a coyote hybrid is the prevalent wild canid of the Park and that reintroduction of a wolf to the Park is presently infeasible without extensive preparation.

NYS adopts a revised rare plant list 2000

Various government laws, regulations and policies protect rare plants. Probably the most surprising aspect of rare plant protection is that, unlike animals, plants are the property of the landowner whether they might be individual, corporation, or government agency. This means that the protection of rare plants is under the control of the landowner unless, in some cases, a government-regulated action is affecting them. Then the government entity regulating the action may require that the protection efforts take place to preserve the rare plants and their habitat.

Robert Beyfuss reports average price of wild ginseng in New York is now c. $500 per pound. 2004

Despite laws prohibiting harvest of wild American ginseng from the lands of the Forest preserve “sang hunters” continue their poaching of this gold crop with dried-weight roots bringing prices equaling the value of gold. The species thus continues its decline in the Adirondacks with very few, if any, arrests of collectors. Collection of other wild plants of great value to herbalists also continues on the lands and waters of the Forest Preserve.

The Park Report, RCPA, devotes June issue to wind power in NY with emphasis on Adks (Jun) 2006

Currently, the Adirondack Park is being ringed by wind farms: Across New York four wind power projects are up and running. These include the Maple Ridge Wind Farm (Phase 1: 120 towers, 198 MW; phase 2: 75 towers, 124 MW, Martinsburg, Lewis County); Fenner Wind Farm (20 towers, 30 MW, Fenner, Madison County); Madison Wind Power (7 towers, 11.55 MW, Madison, Madison County); Western New York Wind Power (10 towers, 6.6 MW, Wethersfield, Wyoming County). Others are in development.

Maple Ridge Wind Farm, with 195 windmills, Lowville, hosts ribbon-cutting ceremony (26 Sep) 2006.

The Maple Ridge Wind Farm, is operated by Horizon Wind Energy and Iberdola Renewables, and is located on some 21,000 upland acres owned by the residents of Lewis County, a tract covering some 12 by 3 miles. Each tower is 260 feet tall bearing a three-blade rotor each blade of which is 130 feet long (weighing 7 MT) resulting in a windmill 390 feet high. Each windmill costs some $2.8M, the entire project some $380M. On average each windmill produces enough power for 560 homes, the project enough for some 125,000 homes or 2% of NYS’s residential power needs. Power generated enters the NYS energy grid at a substation located near Rector Road, Town of Martinsburg, and then is ‘piped’ through a 230kV line to another substation on Wetmore Road in Glenfied 10.3 miles away to connect with the main 230kV National Grid bulk transmission line supplying Boston, New York City and points in between. The MRWF produces some 321 MW, the CO2 equivalent of 205,440 a. or about 3.4% of the area of the Adirondack Park.

George Nigriny, with Richard Bailey, prime contractor, makes helicopter tree harvest (Sep-Nov) 2006

George Nigriny, with Richard Bailey (Bailey Forest Products) as his prime contractor, conducted a timber cut of helicopter of some 300,000 bf on 800 a. of Hatchbrook Sportsman’s Club land, at the end of North Road, near Cathead Mt., Town of Benson, Hamilton County. A Boeing Vertol-11 helicopter powered by two 1,500 hp GE turbines, the world’s second largest flying-crane, did the lifting and transport from this site surrounded by lands of the FP. Bailey of Johnstown-Gloversville contracted with Columbia Helicopters of Portland, Oregon for the work. The site was prepared in September 2006. Fellers completed the cutting by the first week of October 2006, and the ‘helo operation’ was complete by 20 October, 2006. Veneer quality material included hard maple (32,030 bf), red oak (3,825 bf), cherry (2,340 bf) and birch (625 bf). Value?: The mill price for maple veneer was c. $4,550 per 1,000 bf., the amount of wood derived from a tree with 30” DBH yielding a log 56’ long. Saw log grade material included hard maple (211,860 bf), cherry (22,820 bf), red oak (15,905 bf) and birch (3,455 bf). This ‘high-grade cut’ had minimal visual impact on the site. Mr. Nigriny reports that “... without close inspection the casual observer would not even have realized that a harvest had taken place.”

All state (New York) residents live in either a city or a town, as their boundaries do not overlap. Villages, in contrast, are located within towns, and their residents pay taxes to both the village and the town. Historically, a village tended to be the more densely populated section of a town—the part for which additional services such as water, sewer, police and fire protection were likely to be needed. In essence, a village was a smaller version of a city, providing services not available in the surrounding areas of the town. However, rapid suburbanization after World War II led to changes in law that allowed such services to be provided without creation of a village (often these services are provided through “special districts”). Today, water, sewer, sanitation, police and fire protection services are provided routinely throughout towns, and the incorporation of a village is no longer necessary for these purposes.

Big news: Some 257,000 acres of International Paper Co. land in the Adirondacks have been dedicated to various recreational and preservational uses: 82,000 a. with full public access rights, 173,000 a. with partial rights for hiking and snowmobiling, and 2,000 a. through outright purchase. Lands of nine counties are involved: Hamilton, Warren, Washington, Franklin, Clinton, St.Lawremnce, Essex, Saratoga and Herkimer. The cost is about $34M: $23.9M from the state, $5.5M from the Environmental Protection Fund, and $4.4M from the Richard King Mellon Foundation and the Ace Group. Planning by the Pataki administration for the deal began in 2004. The Lyme Timber Co. of Connecticut will own most of the land and apply sustainable forestry methods benefitting land, commerce and community in concert with various easements.

I think the Adirondack Park has almost gone full circle back to its origins when you used to have the famous Great Camps and you had a two-tier society where you had the very wealthy who owned the Great Camps on the lakes and you had the service class—the guides, the folks who operated the local shops, people who essentially serviced that group. You do have a middle class here, but it’s small.

“Unfortunately, another invasive species has spread in the waters of New York State,” said Steve Sanford, chief of DEC, Office of Invasive Species. “We are doing our best to alert fishermen, boaters and all users of New York waters to the presence of the spiny water flea and to promote practices that minimize the spread of these non-natives.”

Native to Eurasia, spiny water fleas are crustaceans that can have a huge impact on aquatic life in lakes and ponds due to their rapid reproduction rates. In warmer water temperatures, these water fleas can hatch, grow to maturity, and lay eggs in as few as two weeks. But that is not the only challenge presented by this invasive species. Sometimes, its eggs can remain in a dormant state for years before hatching, making tracking it and limiting its spread very difficult.

Anglers of Great Sacandaga Lake will encounter the spiny water flea as a slimy, cotton-like mass clinging to their lines. It is thus crucial that drying and disinfection of gear, engine and trailer be conducted in order to prevent infestation of other water bodies.

Despite having spent over $100 million with M/A-COM in development of a statewide communication system for first-responders, NYS OFT has terminated that contract and is now starting over with a new design basis for the system: Instead of building a statewide communications network and offering to connect counties and other local governments to it, the state will now work to facilitate the development of regional networks connecting groups of partnering counties thereby improving its usefulness. . . . The new strategic road map we are pursuing de-emphasizes the one-size-fits-all notion and envisions an interconnected system of systems. . . . .

The major emergencies that have occurred around the state are far more regional in nature than they are statewide. Whether it’s a plane crash in Erie County, an ice storm in the Adirondacks or forest fires on Long Island, these are all actual incidents that required a major commitment of resources. The public safety response was far more regional in nature than statewide. A regional radio network can handle these needs more directly with better local knowledge than a statewide system.

Albany Engineering asked us to find that a New York statute providing for the District’s assessment of charges for headwater benefits is preempted by section 10(f) of the Federal Power Act (FPA), and 2. to grant Albany Engineering specified remedies as a result of our finding. In our orders, we found that section 10(f) preempts the New York statute to a certain extent but declined to grant the requests for remedies.

One federal advisory for the control of the emerald ash borer suggests that all host trees, i.e. members of the genus Fraxinus, within a half mile of the infection site be destroyed. A DEC exercise sited for Putnam Pond State Campground approximated that thousands of trees, actually 63 thousand, would have to be destroyed to achieve the federal protocol. Given Article XIV how can this be legally done? How can any control method involving the destruction of trees on the Forest Preserve, even the building of fire breaks, be legally done without constitutional amendment? Judith Harper and Phil Brown highlight this dilemma in their article in Adirondack Explorer (November/December) 2009. A workshop or conference is needed to brainstorm this challenge. One source estimates that 50 to 80 million ash trees have been destroyed already.

Mary Esch, AP, reports on objections of NYCDEP to natural gas drilling in Catskills (24 Dec) 2009

Chesapeake Energy holds leases for natural gas drilling into the Marcellus shale in the Catskill Region but promises not to apply them because of the inevitable controversy. The 1,585 square mile watershed west of the Hudson R. basic to NYC’s watersupply for nine million people would be threatened says the DEC and NYCDEP. Some 3,000 to 6,000 wells would be involved involving thousands of acres of landfilling, millions of truck trips and other threats. Failure of water quality in the Catskill region would require ten billion dollars in water purification development none of which is extant at this time. We also suggest that problems with this source would reopen the issue of the Adirondacks as a major public drinking water resource. Events outside of the Adirondacks can indeed have impacts inside the Blue Line.

The 10th Mountain Division of the U.S. Army proposes 22 helicopter training missions per week in April and May from Fort Drum to the top of Mt. Washington, a one-way distance of 88 nautical miles using the Lake Placid airport as the primary refueling site. Four kinds of helicopters would be involved: AH-64 Apache, UH-60 Blackhawk, CH-47 Chinook cargo, and the OH-58D Kiowa Warrier. No ammunition would be carried. The noise generated by the flying helicopters would approximate that of a chain saw for a ground auditor. Mt. Washington is the only appropriate training site in New York State U.S. Army authorities claim. Public comment was accepted.

But what possible relevance can the explosion and consequences of the 20 April, 2010, Deepwater Horizon explosion have to the Adirondack Park? It has stimulated greater concern for the environmental impacts of big industry on distant targets. How does big coal shape the Adirondacks? How has mining in Sudbury, Canada, impacted the Adirondacks? How has big shipping and world trade modified the biota of the Great Lakes and surrounding lands? What other industries are present in our region that could have significant influence on the Adirondack Park and are regulatory laws in place and being enforced? The Park is not an island unto itself.

Some one-thousand double-crested cormorant, a fish-eating diving bird, now inhabit Lake Champlain. And now the species has spread into Lake George. They roost on smaller islands causing, by means of their acid guano, death of the hosting trees and general disruption of island ecosystems. Populations of Lake Ontario have been judged excessive initiating DEC control by means of gun and the oiling of eggs. We wonder what the natural controls were/are for the species.

AA f reports on fall, 2010, status of Asian clam in Lake George with infestation of 8.1 a (28 Mar) 2011

Indeed, the Asian clam may become one of the more serious invasive species for the waters of the Adirondack Park. Reaching the size and form of a cherry tomatoe this filter-feeding mollusc may prosper to depths exceeding 200 feet to form colonies with a density of 1,500 individuals per square meter. Its ability to both filter feed and to surface feed by means of its foot make it a most competent competitor for space and nutrients and as a consequence a potent concentrator of nutrients fostering bacterial and algal growth. It may burrow to a depth of five or more inches and thus remain unseen to the casual observer. It is used as bait and as a human food, the probably explanation for its rapid dispersal.

Regarding the edibility of fish caught in the AP: A map of 63 major water bodies of the AP is presented, each lake numbered. Women under 50 years of age and children under 15 are advised not to eat any fish taken from these waters. Men over 15 and women over 50 years of age are advised to eat a limited number of fish as specified for each water body. Commonly, one fish per meal per month of the named fish species is suggested. Methyl mercury is the prime pollutant of concern. Fourteen species of fish are considered, six of which are senior predators, bioconcentrators, and thus especially dangerous to eat: largemouth bass, smallmouth bass, northern pike, walleye, pickerel, yellow perch of 10 inches in length.

Fall color development in NE US is occurring several days later than >20 years ago (Oct) 2011

Yes, peak fall color is occurring later than in the past. Studies at the federal Hubbard Brook Experimental Forest, Woodstock, NH, Indicate the delay to be two to five days when compared to 20 years ago. John O’Keefe of the Harvard Forest, 65 miles west of Boston, reports the delay to be about three days later relative to 20 years ago. NASA Goddard Flight Center researchers, using satellite imagery, suggest the 2008 green season to be about 6½ days later than in 1982. Fall foliage expeditions will have to adjust in the Adirondacks and elsewhere.

Leigh Goessi, Science, reports on J. Hafernik’s discovery of phorid fly parasite in honey bees (5 Jan) 2012

Professor John Hafernik of San Fransisco State College, and President of the California Academy of Science, discovered, in 2008, larvae of the phorid fly, Apacephalus borealis, in a collection of honey bees serving as food for a preying mantis. Follow-up work indicates that infected bees leave the hive at night to gather around lights and wander aimlessly before death. Hafernik’s study team has found 77% of hives in the vicinity of SFSC to have infected bees. Thus far the flies have been detected as infecting honey bees in California and South Dakota, but the seasonal movement of bees for commercial pollination from east to west and back suggests expansion of the parasite. We wonder why the paraasite has not been detected already in regions being impacted by CCD, if this indeed is the cause of CCD. We also wonder why it has taken Professor Hafernik so long to report (by press release on 3 January, 2012) on his important findings.
