CONCLUSION. . . . . 10

SUMMARY OF THE ARGUMENT

This motion is made on the following grounds:

- A. Petitioners should be granted leave pursuant to CPLR § 408 to conduct disclosure because it is necessary to prosecute the proceeding;
- B. The Adirondack Park Agency ("APA") engaged in prohibited ex parte communications that demonstrate the need for disclosure, and are a basis for annulment of the agency's decision; and
- C. The State should be required to produce a full record of the APA proceedings under consideration by providing a transcript of the APA's meetings in which the relevant deliberations were conducted.

POINT I:
DISCLOSURE IS NEEDED TO PROSECUTE THE PROCEEDING

"Leave of court shall be required for disclosure" in an Article 78 proceeding. CPLR § 408. The court has "broad discretion" to permit "any discovery that is relevant to the controversy at issue." Matter of Town of Pleasant Val. v. New York State Bd. of Real Prop. Servs., 253 A.D.2d 8, 16 (2d Dept. 1999). Under CPLR § 408, the court should grant a request for leave to conduct disclosure where the disclosure "sought [is] likely to be material and necessary to the prosecution or defense of [the] proceeding." Stapleton Studios v. City of New York, 7 A.D.3d 273, 275 (1st Dept. 2004); see Allen v. Crowell-Collier Publ. Co., 21 N.Y.2d 403, 406-407 (1968).

One of the critical claims of the Amended Petition<sup>1</sup> in this Article 78 proceeding is that the Adirondack Park Agency ("APA"), the agency which was responsible for the environmental review of the Adirondack Club & Resort ("ACR") project,<sup>2</sup> failed to follow the law, and its own regulations, when it engaged in improper ex parte communications with the Project Sponsors and others, after the adjudicatory hearing record had been closed. Amended <sup>2</sup> See Matter of Association for the Protection of the Adirondacks, Inc. v. Town Bd. of Town of Tupper Lake, 64 A.D.3d 825 (3d Dept. 2009).

Petition, Twenty-Eighth Cause of Action; Affidavit of John W. Caffry, sworn to on September 7, 2012 ("Caffry Aff."), ¶¶ 19-31. This allegation arose from a January 17, 2012 broadcast of a radio interview of the Mayor of the Village of Tupper Lake (a strong supporter of the ACR project) who stated that there had "been ongoing talks" between the Project Sponsors and individuals at APA, who were likely covered by rules prohibiting ex parte communications. Amended Petition ¶610; see Caffry Aff. ¶20.

At the time, that small revelation by the Mayor may have been "insufficient to warrant deferral of judgment pending discovery." Price v. New York City Bd. Of Educ., 51 A.D.3d 277, 293 (1st Dept. 2008). However, the administrative record of the APA's deliberations provided further support that there were ongoing communications between the project sponsor and the APA staff. Reply<sup>3</sup> ¶398; see Caffry Aff. Ex. G. The Mayor's affidavit, annexed to the State's Answer<sup>4</sup> to the Article 78 Petition, also confirmed that there were secret negotiations between the Project Sponsors and an APA attorney. Reply ¶399; see Caffry Aff. ¶¶ 22-23.

Additionally, pursuant to the Freedom of Information Law, Public Officers Law Article 6 ("FOIL"), the Petitioners have since obtained additional documentation confirming that there were prohibited ex parte communications between the Project Sponsors and the APA staff, and quite likely, the voting Members of the APA. Reply ¶396; Caffry Aff. ¶¶ 25-27, 30-31. Also, according to a letter dated July 24, 2012 from the Agency's Acting Counsel, there are 15 e-mail threads, and three other documents responsive to the Petitioners' FOIL request, which the Agency is withholding from disclosure under FOIL. Caffry Aff. ¶30. The description of the withheld documents indicates that there may have been additional ex parte communications between APA and the Executive Chamber. Caffry Aff. ¶30.

While the Agency's Acting Counsel asserts that these documents are not subject to release under FOIL, there is no valid basis under FOIL, or the disclosure rules, for withholding the documents. See Matter of Miller v. New York State Dept. of Transp., 58 A.D.3d 981, 984-985 (3d Dept. 2009), lv denied 12 N.Y.3d 712 (2009). In any event, any privilege dispute will have to be resolved as part of the normal course of disclosure.

Since the APA's decision was made following a formal adjudicatory hearing (Caffry Aff. ¶5), subject to strict ex parte contact rules, the communications to the Agency by the Project Sponsors and the Executive Chamber cannot be characterized as merely "legitimate advocacy" efforts, which might not warrant disclosure under CPLR § 408. Matter of London Terrace Assoc., L.P. v. New York State Div. of Hous. & Community Renewal, 35 M.3d 525, 537 (Sup. Ct. New York Co. 2012). Moreover, none of the other adjudicatory hearing parties were ever notified of these communications. Amended Petition ¶627. Compare id.

As set forth in Point II below, these communications were prohibited, and, if the Twenty-Eighth Cause of Action is proven to the satisfaction of the Court, they will be a basis for annulling the APA's decision approving the ACR project. Disclosure, including depositions, is necessary to obtain additional evidence on this issue because "there [is] no other way" that the Petitioners can determine the full substance, extent, or impact of the prohibited communications. Matter of Chapman v. 2 King St. Apts. Corp., 8 M.3d 1026(A), *12 (Sup. Ct. New York Co. 2005); see generally Matter of Boisson v. 4 E. Hous. Corp., 129 A.D.2d 523 (1st Dept. 1987). The communications are solely within the knowledge of the individuals, both party and non-party witnesses, who took part in the conversations. See Plaza Operating Partners v. IRM (U.S.A.) Inc., 143 M.2d 22, 24 (Civil Ct. City of New York 1989).

Therefore, full disclosure regarding these communications is "material and necessary to the prosecution" of the Petitioners' petition, and should be granted. Stapleton Studios v. City of New York, 7 A.D.3d at 275; see Matter of Freidus v. Guggenheimer, 57 A.D.2d 760 (1st Dept. 1977).

POINT II:
THE EX PARTE COMMUNICATIONS WERE PROHIBITED

State Administrative Procedure Act ("SAPA") § 307(2) states:

Unless required for the disposition of ex parte matters authorized by law, members or employees of an agency assigned to render a decision or to make findings of fact and conclusions of law in an adjudicatory proceeding shall not communicate, directly or indirectly, in connection with any issue of fact, with any person or party, nor, in connection with any issue of law, with any party or his representative, except upon notice and opportunity for all parties to participate.

In addition, APA's regulations prohibit ex parte communications regarding any matter that is the subject of an adjudicatory proceeding. See 9 NYCRR § 587.4(b).

The evidence already gathered by the Petitioners indicates that, after the adjudicatory hearing was closed, APA Staff, and potentially at least one APA Member, communicated with the Project Sponsors regarding the language of the proposed order and permits that APA approved. Reply ¶¶ 395-417; Caffry Aff. ¶¶ 19-31. For example, a memorandum written by Thomas A. Ulasewicz (an attorney for the Project Sponsors), dated just one week before APA's final vote on the Project, states, in part:

[APA Staff Attorney Paul] Van Cott called me this morning. The Final Order and draft Permits are posted on the Agency's website. The language in these documents are [sic] what the Agency members got Wednesday evening and do not reflect a number of changes, he, I and [APA General Counsel John] Banta agreed to. ... I told him this is unacceptable...

Van Cott called me back at 11AM to tell me that a second posting of Permits will go on the website today (he thought before 2PM when a phone conference is to take place between Agency members and Martino). All of the changes he, I and Banta had agreed to along with putting paragraph #30 back to its original language will be reflected in this new posting. He asked that we review those permits intended to be implemented early on and get back to him today with concerns. He offered to meet with me on Sunday if we had our comments together on the whole package so that he could bring them to the attention of Banta and [APA] Chairwoman [Lani] Ulrich first thing Monday morning. I told him I would see what I could coordinate. I have his cell phone number and we arranged to talk again this afternoon (probably after the conference call). Reply ¶407(d); Caffry Aff. ¶¶ 26-27, Ex. H (I).

The other parties, including Petitioners, were not served copies of these communications, nor were they given an opportunity to participate in the negotiations. Amended Petition ¶627. See 9 NYCRR § 587.4(c) (1), (2).

The fact that the communications involved the specific language of the approved order and permits, particularly the language regarding the deed restrictions and the time frame for the project to be "in existence" (Reply ¶¶ 407, 441-445), "hardly permits characterizing" the communications as not "substantive" (Reply ¶402). Matter of Goldfinger v. Lisker, 68 N.Y.2d 225, 232 (1986).

While the Respondents may argue "that petitioner[s] [were] in no way prejudiced by this procedure, the fact remains that this method of drafting final determinations not only plainly violates [SAPA] § 307(2) but, further, creates the appearance of impropriety." Matter of Kaiser v. McCall, 262 A.D.2d 920, 921 (3d Dept. 1999). Indeed, "[s]uch contacts are in violation of administrative procedural due process and mandate an annulment of the [agency's] determination." Matter of Signet Constr. Corp. v. Goldin, 99 A.D.2d 431, 432 (1st Dept. 1984); see Matter of Rivera v. Espada, 3 A.D.3d 398, 398-399 (1st Dept. 2004) (annulling determination "tainted by the ex parte communication" with an attorney who participated in the hearing on behalf of a party). Even an appearance of impropriety is sufficient to "warrant an annulment of the determination" by APA to approve the ACR Project. Matter of LePore v. McCall, 262 A.D.2d 919, 920 (3d Dept. 1999).

Petitioners' diligence with respect to the ex parte communications claim has revealed evidence, such as the Ulasewicz memorandum quoted above, that there was, at the very least, an "appearance of impropriety" in APA's decision-making process. Matter of Kaiser v. McCall, 262 A.D.2d at 921. Therefore, APA's decision approving the ACR project should be annulled. See Matter of LePore v. McCall, 262 A.D.2d at 920. Because of the obvious merit of these claims, leave to conduct disclosure should be granted to allow Petitioners to explore the extent of prohibited communications. Point I, supra.

POINT III:
THE STATE SHOULD PROVIDE THE COMPLETE RECORD

In an Article 78 proceeding, “[t]he body or officer shall file with the answer a certified transcript of the record of the proceedings under consideration . . . .” CPLR § 7804(e). The State’s Answer (¶645) alleges that it has served the Return in this matter. However, despite Petitioners’ multiple requests, the State has refused, in violation of CPLR § 7804(e), to provide a transcript of the APA’s deliberations on the ACR project during its meetings in November and December 2011, and January 2012. Caffry Aff. ¶39. Instead, APA’s deliberations, which are crucial to the Court’s analysis of the Causes of Action in the Amended Petition, have been provided in an electronic format, as copies of the webcasts of the meetings. Caffry Aff. ¶40.

Whether APA’s decision was arbitrary and capricious and affected by error of law rests heavily on the APA Members’ deliberations. Amended Petition, passim. The Petitioners, the State, and the Project Sponsors rely upon what was said during the meetings to support their various positions. Reply ¶452; Caffry Aff. ¶41.

While the Petitioners have transcribed select portions of the recorded webcasts (Reply ¶453), a full transcript is necessary for the Court to properly review the APA’s action. See Matter of Captain Kidd’s v. New York State Liq. Auth., 248 A.D.2d 791, 792 (3d Dept. 1998) (holding that submission of an audio tape is not in compliance with CPLR § 7804(e)). The State should be directed to produce a transcript of the relevant meetings. See id. Petitioners are "cognizant that it will be a lengthy and costly process to transcribe" the APA's meetings. Matter of Lydon v. New York State Div. of Hous. & Community Renewal, 158 A.D.2d 291, 291-292 (1st Dept. 1990). Nonetheless, under CPLR § 7804(e), the State is required to provide the transcript at its expense. See id.

In the alternative, APA's decision approving the ACR Project should be annulled, and the matter should be remanded to APA for a de novo determination. See Matter of Arnot-Ogden Mem. Hosp. v. Axelrod, 95 A.D.2d 947, 948-949 (3d Dept. 1983); Matter of Gittens v. Sullivan, 151 A.D.2d 481 (2d Dept. 1989).

CONCLUSION

Petitioners should be granted leave pursuant to CPLR § 408 to conduct disclosure in order to prosecute the proceeding. In addition, the State should be directed to prepare and file a transcript of the APA's deliberations on the ACR project that took place during the November and December 2011, and the January 2012 APA meetings. Accordingly, filing and service of the Record, Appendix and the Petitioners' Brief should be stayed until 60 days after the completion of discovery and the completion and filing of the transcript by APA, whichever comes later.
