

These pictures are from MacIntyre East Section of the High Peaks Wilderness from November 2021. These pictures are from a 1-mile stretch of road where the Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) is reversing pits and mounds ecological restoration work completed in 2019-2020. The objective of this work was to expedite ecological restoration and forest reclamation of former logging roads that are now part of the High Peaks Wilderness Area in the Adirondack Forest Preserve. The DEC is now reconstituting a road corridor in the High Peaks Wilderness Area.

These pictures show recent work by the Department of Environmental Conservation to remove ecological restoration work that was completed in 2019-2020 to expedite forest reclamation of abandoned roads in the MacIntyre East section of the High Peaks Wilderness Area. The DEC is reversing this work and rebuilding a road.

These pictures show recent work by the Department of Environmental Conservation to remove ecological restoration work that was completed in 2019-2020 to expedite forest reclamation of abandoned roads in the MacIntyre East section of the High Peaks Wilderness Area. The DEC is reversing this work and rebuilding a road.

These pictures show recent work by the Department of Environmental Conservation to remove ecological restoration work that was completed in 2019-2020 to expedite forest reclamation of abandoned roads in the MacIntyre East section of the High Peaks Wilderness Area. The DEC is reversing this work and rebuilding a road.

These pictures show recent work by the Department of Environmental Conservation to remove ecological restoration work that was completed in 2019-2020 to expedite forest reclamation of abandoned roads in the MacIntyre East section of the High Peaks Wilderness Area. The DEC is reversing this work and rebuilding a road.

These pictures show recent work by the Department of Environmental Conservation to remove ecological restoration work that was completed in 2019-2020 to expedite forest reclamation of abandoned roads in the MacIntyre East section of the High Peaks Wilderness Area. The DEC is reversing this work and rebuilding a road.

These pictures show recent work by the Department of Environmental Conservation to remove ecological restoration work that was completed in 2019-2020 to expedite forest reclamation of abandoned roads in the MacIntyre East section of the High Peaks Wilderness Area. The DEC is reversing this work and rebuilding a road.

These pictures show recent work by the Department of Environmental Conservation to remove ecological restoration work that was completed in 2019-2020 to expedite forest reclamation of abandoned roads in the MacIntyre East section of the High Peaks Wilderness Area. The DEC is reversing this work and rebuilding a road.